American Association of Suicidology
The American Association of Suicidology (AAS) is the world’s largest and nation’s oldest membership-based suicide prevention organization. Founded in 1968 by Edwin S. Shneidman, PhD, AAS promotes the research of suicide and its prevention, public awareness programs, public education, and training for professionals and volunteers.

AAS Mission Statement
To promote the understanding and prevention of suicide and support those who have been affected by it.

AAS Vision Statement
We are an inclusive community that envisions a world where people know how to prevent suicide and find hope and healing.

We accomplish this mission by directing efforts to:
- Advance Suicidology as a science; encouraging, developing and disseminating scholarly work in suicidology.
- Encourage the development and application of strategies that reduce the incidence and prevalence of suicidal behaviors.
- Compile, develop, evaluate and disseminate accurate information about suicidal behaviors to the public.
- Foster the highest possible quality of suicide prevention, intervention and postvention to the public.
- Publicize official AAS positions on issues of public policy relating to suicide.
- Promote research and training in suicidology.
We are expecting AAS24 to be the largest AAS Conference to date. Let’s take a look back on AAS23 in Portland, Oregon.
